

Regional Settings Affecting Rounding in the Financial Statements

When rounding is enabled, some statements are rounded and others will not round.

If the regional settings are not set as follows, it may cause the rounding to continually be in a recalculate position. When rounding is enabled, some of the statements are rounded but others are not. This leaves the rounding in a recalculate position. Regional settings on the workstation need to be modified to correct this issue.

Solution

- 1) On your Start menu, choose Control panel, then the Regional and Language settings:
- 2) Click on Additional settings...:

3) Make sure the regional settings for numbers and currency are set as shown below:
